ULTIMATE NORTHEAST SUPER LATE MODEL SERIES WILL RETURN TO SELINGROVE SPEEDWAY FOR THE "SHOWDOWN ON SAND HILL" AUG. 15

Pennsylvania's Selinsgrove Speedway will host the Ultimate Northeast Super Late Model Series for the annual "Showdown on Sand Hill" Saturday, Aug. 15, as part of the 2020 tour.

For the third year in a row, the traveling series will return to the Snyder County half-mile clay oval for a 30-lap, $3,000-to-win main event for the super late models. Joining the super late models on the Aug. 15 racing card will be the PASS/IMCA 305 sprint cars and roadrunners.

In the 2019 "Showdown on Sand Hill" race, Gregg Satterlee jumped out to an early lead before Jared Miley snuck past him on lap 13. After challenging Miley for the top spot late in the race, Satterlee settled for a runner-up finish behind Miley, with Dylan Yoder, Matt Cosner, and Jason Covert trailing them at the checkers.

Other past winners of Selinsgrove's "Showdown" event include Dylan Yoder (2018), Tim McCreddie (2014), and Satterlee (2013).
